

SOURCE OF MAGIC

It's the reason of all war that has been and the reason of all life that has lived on Earth. But It would be destroyed by someone eventually.

When It has happened, there would be no turning back from this. All races even creatures and sources of angels would be disappear like they have never been there. This wouldn't be the end. This would be compilation of the preparation for him and her. But until that happens, this was world belong to everyone. Steria had the soul of earth. Ubra had the freedom of fire. Animus had the hearth of emotions. Golem had creativity of maker. Djinni had shape of being. Alien had wisdom of intelligence. And every one of them has been living in here before us. We have to remember them. We have to remember them for won't make the same mistake. We have to remember them for see what would have been and what has been.

"Father how so you know these were real." said boy and father answers.

"Because your grandfather had been informed about them."

He walks through a cliff and see a ruin of city.
