

STORY OF TITAN

Once upon a time. Tribes of earth were fighting with each other. We call this fight "Titan Call" because in one part of the fight, a powerful golem offer a weapon to each side. This weapon was a titan made with golem alchemy. Titan was indestructible and inevitable. Every side of the fight wanted this titan. However golem was clever. He knew only one titan can be made and only one tribe may have that. So It held a contest.

1 year tribes weren't fight with each other for preparing to competition. However, that wasn't mean the fight has been ended. On the contrary, fight evolved a cold war, tense waiting. Golem knew the rope will break if this tense continues to increase so It promulgate the content of competition. "Climbing the top of titan and killing it." Firstly they weren't believe the golem and laugh at, after a while they understand the situation. If they wouldn't win this competition they would consume each other forever but if they were win the competition, they weren't be able to make sure about winning titan. That was the plan of golem. It has been tricking every one of them for 1 year. Tribes were desperate. They had prepared themselves to win this competition for 1 year. They didn't prepare themselves for after it. They had no choice but win so they choose their champions and put them into a impossible situation.

Every one of them tried to the best of their abilities. Unfortunately, all of them knew this was nothing but spinning someone's wheels.

When champions were racing. Tribe leaders were looking for a way to win.

They think day after day, week after week. They had no choice but win so they wait month after month. No one has come from titan. No one has no strength left to wait. Everyone was shattering of hopes so they had to do. They had to throw themselves at the feet of Golem.

Finally, Golem achieve its object and stopped the fight. It said:

-Don't be sorry for, what you have done till today. Be happy to make a better world. And don't choose your leader from war. Choose them from wisdom, strength and mercy as you champions.

Titan changes its position and Its head has been appeared. It begins to separate itself and make small titans all over the world. When the head of the titan touch the ground, a garden seemed and golem talked again:

-Your champions deserve to be king. All of them fight with each other and realised anyone of them were not be able to have all the titan by along but they could have a part of it.

Champions walked through the edge of garden till they arrive next to golem. And every one of them declare their part of golem. Babylon had the head. Pergamon had the chest. Vinland had the arms and Montezuma had the legs.

After that day all cities are improved by champions of titans and protected from others.
